Hot Tar Explodes at Union Co.
Lumber Yards; President,
Three Others Hurt.

Special to The Star
MARION, O., April 3—An explosion of a quantity of hot tar at the C. H. Giff Lumber Co. yards at Broadway, eight miles north of Marion, this morning and injured three men, all of whom received second degree burns and cuts on the face and arms, are C. H. Giff, president of the company, and Delphos Giff, and two employees, Paul Lane and Frank Smith, all of Broadway. All are receiving medical treatment at the hospital.

Were Heating Tar
The explosion which led to the fire occurred about 8 a. m. today while the four men were heating tar in a small workshop preparatory to applying it to the roof of one of the buildings at the yards. Mr. Giff said. The only explanation he could give, he said, was that wood shavings being burned to heat the tar got into the hot tar and ignited it.

The hot tar and bits of a large iron vat in which it was being heated struck the four men.

Quickly lighting the workshop building, the flames soon spread to storage buildings and a quantity of lumber piled in the yards and by 10 a. m. the plant was reduced to smoldering embers.

In addition to the workshop building, a small office building and three large storage buildings were burned.

SHAKEDOWN TRIAL ON AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Special to The Star
UPPER SANDUSKY, O., April 3—William Cahill, 49, of Columbus, self-styled executive officer of the Ohio State Liquor Dealers, Inc., went on trial here today on a charge of violating the state code governing liquor permits.

The case, being heard by Commissioner Russell H. Kear, was a jury, got underway this morning and court officials estimated that the lengthy testimony probably will not be completed until late tomorrow or early Friday.

Cahill was arrested at Mansfield March 8 after an Upper Sandusky safe proprietor complained to Wyandot county officials that Cahill was "running a racket." The charge was filed by officials of the state liquor department following an investigation of Cahill's activities.

State officials who came here to question Cahill said that he had been sought for months on complaints of liquor dealers and restaurant operators. These business men said, reported there was a "shakedown" in connection with Cahill's alleged efforts to get them to join his "association."

The principal witness at the opening session was Deputy Sheriff Paul H. Frey, who testified about tracing Cahill's activities, placing him under arrest at Mansfield and seizing a quantity of Cahill's records which were found in a hotel room.

Following his testimony, Defense Attorney Russell C. Price made a motion that Frey's testimony be stricken from the record on grounds that Cahill's records and private papers were seized illegally. Judge Kear overruled the motion.

CLEANUP WINS IN KANSAS CITY

Aroused Reform Forces Sweep
Henchmen of Pendergast from City Hall.

By The Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, April 3—Aroused cleanup forces, led by 7,500 actively campaigning women, tore Kansas City's scandal-gripped city hall away from Tom Pendergast's machine yesterday.

The victory, achieved by a fusion of independent Democrats, Republicans and civic leaders, was almost as decisive as any the city's Democratic boss ever achieved for his puppets.

Fusionists elected John B. Gage, Democratic lawyer, mayor by 20,000 votes and swept seven of their eight councilmanic candidates and both municipal judges into office with him.

Held Complete Control
Pendergast, at his peak, elected U. S. senators, governors, state supreme court judges and legislators. He controlled the city hall 14 years.

After April 17, when Mayor Gage and his cohorts move into the multi-million dollar city hall—built with Pendergast concrete—the machine will have only a few county offices left.

The concerted campaign to oust Pendergastism really got its big push from the 1936 presidential election fights. More than 200 election officials and politicians, both Democrats and Republicans, were indicted. Not one was acquitted.

During the machine regime, a $20,000,000 a year gambling racket and a $12,000,000 a year narcotics ring operated in Kansas City. Pendergast himself accepted nearly $500,000 for his influence in settling a $9,500,000 fire insurance rate case.

Then Came the Women
Then came Tuesday's election and the women.

They rallied behind the plan, "Wanted: 75,000 women with pioneer courage . . . let us keep faith with those who blazed the trail."

They were given much of the credit for the fusion victory. Some 7,500 of them worked election day, getting out the vote, caring for babies while mothers went to the polls and handing out campaign literature.

Fifty-three traffic tags were issued by police for overtime parking in the updown business district Monday and yesterday, the first two days in an intensive drive to relieve parking conditions in the uptown business district, Chief Marks reported today.

Activity in Air Increases Rapidly Today.

By The Associated Press
PARIS, April 3—Allied air scouts on patrol today above the misty western front were reported by military sources today to have shot down at least five and possibly six German fighting planes yesterday.

The French officially declared their planes had shot down two Nazi planes and perhaps a third, while unofficial reports credited the British with destroying three Messerschmitts out of a squadron of nine.

One French plane was forced to land in Luxembourg, the French command said.

From Village Merchant to Secretary of State Is Record of George Neffner

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., April 3—From village dry goods merchant to election expert and finally Ohio secretary of state is the transformation wrought in 12 years in George M. Neffner.

Few persons come to Columbus to take up a minor political office and remain to become a recognized expert in the duties of a great state department and finally land at its head.

That, however, is the history of Neffner, who came to the state capital from New Vienna, Clinton county, and who yesterday was appointed to the office of secretary of state to succeed the late Earl Griffith.

DIES IS DEFIED BY YOUNG RED

Witness Refuses To Reveal
Name of Communist Leader at Harvard University.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 3—The Dies committee met defiance today from a young Communist leader, Thomas O'Dea of Boston, who refused to disclose the name of the secretary of the Young Communist League at Harvard University.

The witness appeared before the committee as president of the Young Communist League of Massachusetts.

Although the committee had previously voted contempt citations against other Communist leaders who refused to give information and the house had taken steps toward prosecution, O'Dea did not hesitate a moment when J. B. Matthews, committee investigator, asked him for the name of the league secretary at Harvard.

"I refuse to answer because it would subject that person to economic pressure," he declared. "He would be deprived of the opportunity to obtain employment and his rights under the constitution would be violated."

Committee members considered their hand strengthened by the house action in supporting their moves to punish previous Communist witnesses who have balked at giving information. Two Pittsburgh leaders have been cited for contempt, and proceedings have been started against a third from Baltimore.

First Census Day Passes Smoothly in Marion Area

Into the homes of hundreds of families in Marion and other counties of the Eighth congressional district marched 154 census takers yesterday to fire the initial barrage of questions in the first day of the sixteenth decennial census of United States. They were part of an army of 120,000 enumerators conducting Uncle Sam's roll call.

If any enumerators had trouble getting answers to 34 questions he or she asked householders during the inaugural day, district headquarters here had not heard of it. Marion city and county workers, returning to headquarters at the close of the day's work, had nothing unusual to report.

Mrs. Ruth Odell, O. E. Brennan and R. C. McNelly, members of the local staff, received the workers' reports. They went over their portfolios to check methods used in completing questionnaires. Mrs. Harriet B. Stuart of Bucyrus, district supervisor, heard reports of Findlay and Hanock enumerators and today was to visit Bucyrus. L. A. Glosier, assistant district supervisor, visited Upper Sandusky yesterday and today was to be in Kenton, to assist census takers.

"It went off as smoothly as we could have hoped," officials reported after the first round-up with workers. Apparently there were no obstacles to impede the flow of information into the census takers' portfolios, headquarters reported.

GERMANS WARN OF QUICK BLOW

Goering Says Drive in West
Awaits Only Hitler's Order.

By The Associated Press
A flurry of air battles and a welter of words contributed today to Europe's waiting war of nerves.

Germany's Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering declared that a "decisive blow" would be struck in the west when Adolf Hitler decided to end the war.

The British expressed belief that new German air raids proved effectiveness of the allied blockade.

Neutral, particularly the Scandinavian states, were fearful that the British-French efforts to sever German lifelines would increase the hazards to bystander nations.

Goering, who made his petition of a lightning war in the west in a radio address over all German stations, gave no inkling when the blow might come, but said it would compare with Germany's 18-day smashing of Poland.

STORY TOLD AT CITY HOSPITAL

Delbert Milligan, 27, Found Unconscious at Home, Tells of Abduction, Attack.

Delbert Milligan, 27, found unconscious about 9:15 this morning in an upstairs room of his home, in Prospect, told of having been dragged with a blackjack by highwaymen who stopped his truck near Leonauburg early this morning, when he regained consciousness at 12:30 this afternoon at City hospital.

Milligan regained consciousness while Sheriff Fred F. Miller and Marshal Ed Fetter of Prospect were questioning Prospect relatives and friends in an effort to solve the mystery surrounding the case.

Milligan's condition was described as "serious but not critical" by Dr. R. T. Gray of Prospect, who was called to the Milligan home and later came to the hospital to attend Milligan. The physician said there was a possible skull fracture and added his first theory that Milligan might have been drugged had not been disproved.

Milligan told the physician that he was returning from Columbus early this morning in the truck he had hauled junk in yesterday, he was stopped by three unknown men at Leonauburg in Delaware county. Milligan said that one of the men got in the truck and the others drove off in their automobile.

Murdered With Gun
He said that the man who got in the truck held a gun on him and then dragged him over the head with a blackjack. He did not lose consciousness and the man drove to Prospect and forced Milligan into the house, he said.

There, they "battled," Milligan trying to protect money which he had on him, and Milligan said the last he knew they were in an upstairs room and he was being beaten repeatedly over the head with the blackjack. He said he remembered that it was night when the fight occurred.

Milligan said the three men were white and that their dress suggested they might be apples. He said when they first stopped his truck they inquired directions to Columbus.

Milligan was found unconscious about 9:15 this morning by his wife, when she started an investigation after he did not report for work. He is employed as a truck driver for Stanley Beery, Prospect dealer in junk.

Went to Columbus
Mrs. Milligan told Sheriff Miller that her husband left about 5 p. m. yesterday with a load of scrap metal to sell in Columbus. When he left he said he would be home about noon and that he would bring groceries for their noon meal.

When he did not return she said she was not worried, since he occasionally stayed overnight in Columbus, sometimes with a half-brother, Louis Dean.

She said it has been her custom to have her younger brother come to stay at the house or to go to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Landon. Last night she and her three children, Norma Jean, Joan and Rose, ranging from 4 to 1 years in age, went to the Landon home.

This morning, she told officials, she was at the Landon home when Mr. Beery came about 9 and told her that her husband had not reported for work. Mr. Beery told officials that he found the door unlocked and called several times but did not receive an answer.

Found Upstairs
When Mrs. Milligan went to investigate she said she found nothing amiss downstairs but that when she could not find her husband she went upstairs where there are two rooms which are used for storing two beds and other articles of furniture. She went through the south room and into the north room where she found her husband, doubled up. She told Sheriff Miller that she

GENE HILL HONORED WITH ROTARY TOKEN

Presentation Made for Notable Attendance Record.

An attendance record which ranks as the best in the history of the Marion Rotary club and one of the best among all Ohio Rotarians won special recognition for Gene Hill in yesterday's weekly meeting of the Marion club at Hotel Harding. Mr. Hill, a former president of the club, was presented with a Rotary emblem which bears the name of the club and an inscription denoting a perfect 10-year attendance record from 1930 to 1940.

The presentation, made by the club through its board of directors took place in a talk by Earl M. Hale, club secretary, who said the token was an expression of appreciation not only for Mr. Hill's loyalty in attendance but for his outstanding service in Rotary and community activities during the 10-year period. The presentation came as a surprise to the recipient.

The 10-year record does not tell the whole story of Mr. Hill's participation in Rotary activities. Before coming to Marion he was a member in other cities, first enrolling at Zanesville in 1926 and since then has been absent from only two meetings. That was when he was in a Zanesville hospital following an operation.

Another feature of yesterday's meeting was a talk by J. L. Gleason of Columbus, representative of the cooperative extension service at Ohio State university. Taking as his subject, "Human Relationships," he declared this to be the most vital problem in the world's affairs and one upon which peace and progress depend. "Friendliness," he designated as the most important factor in business and emphasized the necessity of business men insuring that their employees are cordial toward the public.

"Customers will go to those stores where friendliness prevails. It is even more important than the type of merchandise they sell," were the words voiced by the speaker.

Mr. Gleason was introduced by the Rotary program chairman, George E. Pland.

Leap Before You Look

By Peggy O'Mara

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO Through With Women

OLD ABES bones grew weary, grew cramped. I'm a getting right dizzy he complained with a little sweatheart popping up every time I bring down a net.

Tommy nodded in understanding. Little Sweetheart was a mascot.

Dog gone your spotted hide called Abe as he brought her in by mistake. If you don't keep out under my net you're a goner to winter in somebody's stomach.

Tommy shook with silent laughter. Little Sweetheart was plumped into the water only to come up on a lily pad right under the next strike of the net. Abe reversed the pole and shoved her off. He showed too hard, reached too far.

Tommy heard a screech and a splash. She turned but saw nothing. Then she noticed Abe's hat floating on the water. A moment later Abe's head appeared, water mistle dripping with mud. Securely ensconced on his bald pate sat Little Sweetheart, eyes bulging no more than those of Old Abe.

Abe! gasped Tommy. "What's the matter?"

"Matter?" he spluttered in a queer tone. "Doctor Smith's teeth. I left 'em on the bottom."

It was more than Tommy could stand. She had a ludicrous vision of the pearly white plates gnawing lily roots or biting the mud and she started to laugh. She laughed until the tears streamed down her face and her limbs grew weak. She laughed even as she reached a hand to her caretaker.

It happened then. She slipped. She gave one howling scream which stopped abruptly, muffled by the rush of muddy waters.

Down, down she went, then up, and when she reached the surface footsteps were pounding down the path from the house into the pen.

Allen Bartell, a handsome, immaculate, Allen, in top hat, white tie and tails.

"Top hat and tails were thrown to the ground and Allen knelt on the edge of the pool and held a sweating hand to Tommy's forehead."

Gratefully she accepted it then she looked up.

Bartell's chin was steady, his mouth was grim. Ah but his eyes— they danced like the wings of the bay at sunrise. And the front of his white dress shirt quivered convulsively. Allen Bartell was on the verge of more than the pool. He was on the verge of hysterical laughter.

Tommy was satisfied with his nearness to the pool. She thought of Lily's party. She thought of the reason for Lily's party. It was too much. She gave the rescuing hand a quick, forceful jerk—and there were three in the frog pond.

Or were there?

Allen Bartell was down for a long time and when he came up he looked as though he had spent the time gathering tulips. A wreath of them stood upright on his head. Water hyacinths draped over his shoulders. One eye was black with mud the other was black with anger.

"Shut up!"

"You little devil. He made a leap in her direction caught his foot in a lily root and went down again."

Tommy scrambled up the edge of the pond and collapsed on the edge to howl with laughter. Never had she seen anything as satisfyingly funny.

Abe and Bartell rescued each other. Through a sliding process of mutual support they reached shore. Old Abe shaking his head frog-stuffily at Tommy.

Now you done it, he accused. Lost your farm. Won't get any other frog out of here.

Tommy's laughter stopped. "Why not?" she demanded.

"Bad enough 'us bein' in the pond, but Allen was born in November. Frogs don't like November folk. Frogs is fussy."

Tommy faced defeat and loved it. If she had to lose the farm she was losing it with a laugh.

Stop that grin.

Tommy removing her sudden boots looked up at the roar of anger.

"Oh go look in a mirror she giggled."

"Shut up!" Bartell stood over her.

But Tommy jumped up and her stockings flew out flying out of the pen and towards the house.

Try to make me, she called back over her shoulder.

He did. He caught up with her wheeled her around with a crushing grip of her shoulders, then shook her until she was dizzy.

"I've listened to you all croak until I'm tired of it. Now you're going to listen."

"To your wisecracks?" she offered.

"I'm sick of you, understand? I'm going to tell you just what I think of you and when I get through I want you to go in and get on your knees before Timothy Toland's portrait. I thought old Timothy was a smart man, until I met you."

He was a sick man when he went to Chicago to find out whether there was a Toland fit to inherit his money. He fell for you God knows why. He admitted you were as ornery as the devil. He said you'd had to be to hold your own with the other Tolands and you'd been at it so long it was a habit.

Here's where he made his mistake. He said you had business ability and, given a chance to live with human beings instead of Tolands, you'd become human.

"He didn't dare leave you the money outright. He knew your Great aunt Hannah would have it worked away from you before, so he ink was dry on your signature, so he shopped around until he found something he thought a girl like you could handle. This frog farm."

He wasn't content with that. He drew up his will in such a way that if you failed, you couldn't lose too much. Each season you'd have a sporting chance if you failed. I could convert the farm into something which would bring you a good living. Shut up until I get through."

But Tommy wouldn't shut up, she roared louder than Allen.

"Why didn't he tell me that?"

"Why didn't he leave word?"

"At Orner's As You."

"I told you in the beginning," Bartell answered. He knew you'd be sure to be so cussed that you'd try to pull something just to be different. He had to challenge you. He had to force you to fight and prove your right to the farm to make you appreciate it."

He told me how to handle you. He said I was to be as damned ornery as you were. He failed to tell me it couldn't be done.

When I think of what I've put up with from you it's a wonder I don't murder you right here with my bare hands.

That first night you spent here because you wouldn't go to a hotel. I darned near took pneumonia sleeping on that frigid front porch so I'd be handy if you were frightened. Frightened he disparaged. You haven't enough human blood in your body to be afraid."

Then I took on your family in the courts and held your inheritance for you by living pretending I thought you were a good business woman. Next I took them on in another way and found that you were made of better stuff than you. They could be made into human beings."

Tommy knew she had run the gamut of all emotions as Allen talked. She believed him. One couldn't live with Great Uncle Timothy's portrait without believing only good of the old fellow. And each reprisal fell into place like bits of a jig saw puzzle.

"As for Pierre," continued Bartell, "what I put up with there no one will ever know. Believing he was after your money that he'd planned to meet and marry you because you had a frog farm he wanted. Having to stand by helplessly and watch you make a fool of yourself."

"Why didn't you tell me that?"

"Why didn't you tell me that?"

"Why didn't you tell me that?"

"Why didn't you tell me that?"

"Why didn't you tell me that?"

Elusive Parking Places Voted No. 1 Peeve Here

Next High Complaint in Marion Survey Is Against Slow Moving Vehicular Traffic.

Finding a parking place, or rather the inability to find one, is the pet peeve of the majority of motorists who use Marion streets frequently, while second among their list of hates is slow moving vehicular traffic.

These interesting facts are revealed as the result of a traffic survey conducted by Louis E. Michel, secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce. Findings on the basis of a recent questionnaire prepared by Mr. Michel are published in the organization's April bulletin, issued today.

A total of 130 persons, merchants, factory employees, farmers and others from the city and county submitted answers. By a heavy majority, 88 to 25, they favored arresting pedestrians who violate traffic laws. Eight did not mark their blanks on this particular question.

Frown On Drunken Drivers

Severe sentences for conviction of driving while intoxicated and strict enforcement of traffic regulations drew heavy favorable votes. Favoring maximum penalties for drunken drivers were 130 persons answering the questionnaire, while 114 also favored strict enforcement of the traffic code.

By the slight margin of 63 to 55, with 10 persons not voting, the installation of traffic meters gained a favorable vote. Sixty-five ballot-markers voted against the present parking system, while only 17 reported they favored it.

At least one anonymous while driving, in order of those most disliked, were: no place to park, slow moving traffic, glaring headlights, failure to signal, traffic light timing and angle parking.

Suggested Changes

Fifty-two, or 40 per cent, of the returns offered suggestions for improving Marion's present traffic system. Of the suggestions, 36, or 69 per cent, were to the effect that the city's major traffic ill could be improved by two measures: strict enforcement of the parking time limit and if merchants and business men refrained from parking in the up-town business area.

Of 50 farmers answering the questions, 28, or 56 per cent, did not favor installation of parking meters. Fourteen farmers, or 28 per cent, favored installing the meters and the remaining 18 per cent did not vote on that particular query. Forty-two, or 84 per cent, of the farmers added that they were unable to find places to park on their visits to Marion.

HER READING CORRECTED

Ohio Girl Cured of "Upside Down" Habit.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O.—Joyce Eileen Border, 7, read "upside down" until recently.

The little girl, it was explained, acquired the habit of reading upside down by sharing nursery picture books with an older brother and a younger sister.

Joyce usually was the one who had to look at the pictures upside-down and the upside down pictures were impressed on her mind as being correct.

Later when asked to correctly place pictures, she said: "They look wrong to me, so they must be right."

Under the care of her teacher, Miss Charlotte Kohr of Dover, Joyce got her reading viewpoint straightened out and now she looks at pictures and reads "rightside up" like her fellow pupils.

Board members spent some time looking over the new curtains, torments and cycloramas installed on the Galion High school auditorium stage recently at a cost of $300.

It was announced that a check will be received within a few days for $15,262.47 from the government, completing the grant for the East School building project.

CHANGE IN CLOSING REQUESTED IN GALION

Special to The Star

GALION, April 3—City councilmen heard a request Tuesday night from Bruno Tuscan, local restaurant operator, asking council to revise the present city ordinance controlling the closing hours of eating places where liquor and beer is sold to conform with the state law.

Galion's present ordinance calls for closing of stores where beer and liquor are sold at 12 o'clock, midnight, while the state law calls for closing at 1 a. m. and 2:30 a. m. for night clubs.

Tuscan complained that because of the restrictions in Galion, much business was going to neighboring towns. His request was referred to the rules and ordinances committee.

A resolution passed by city council authorized and directed Service Director Jay Nichols, to advertise and receive bids and to enter into contract for the purchase of a motor truck for the street department.

LAY MINE DEATHS TO POWDER STOCK BLAST

Believe Explosion Centered at 200 Pound Storage Box.

COLUMBUS, O., April 2—Senseless investigation of the Williams Grove coal mine disaster strengthened the belief of experts today that the March 18 blast which killed 11 men centered at a box containing 200 pounds of powder.

Pushing its inquiry, a state board questioned deputy Ohio mine inspectors closely at an extra session last night. Deputies Tom Reese and Dick Nardo corroborated earlier testimony that the detonated powder ignited coal dust with devastating results. None could say how the blasting powder was ignited.

"It is my opinion that the explosion originated at the powder box," said Jerome Watson, general mine inspector for the Hanna Coal company, owners of the bituminous workings near St. Clairsville.

The coal vein and roof timbers were in that "slippery" condition that always follows a powder explosion," he added.

Charles R. Nailer, acting mine superintendent, testified that "torches and other heavier parts of boilers blown apart were found nearest the powder box."

Both Watson and Nailer agreed that "rock-dusting" to lessen the danger of coal dust explosion, would have improved mine conditions, Watson asserted, however, that "there was no excess of coal dust at the time of the explosion."

He said that long-flame black powder was used for blasting in the mine instead of short-flame "permittable" powder recommended by the federal bureau of mines because "short-flame blasting would break the coal into smaller lumps and lower the quality."

Several witnesses told a congressional committee earlier that coal dust might have been ignited by improper blasting operations.

GALION POLICEMAN ASKS RETIREMENT

Charles Ferrall Files Formal Request for Pension.

GALION, April 3—Patrolman Charles Ferrall will retire from service in the Galion police department, effective May 1, it was learned today, after he handed his resignation to Mayor W. M. King, Tuesday.

He has made application for pension to the police pension board.

In his resignation to Mayor King, Ferrall stated that his reason for retiring was because he was permanently disabled.

Ferrall said that in December, 1935, when he was with Captain George Moody trailing a burglar, he fell and was injured, and for several months afterward was able only to serve at the police desk. He is suffering from a heart ailment.

Several years ago he was wounded when one of two men whom he had taken into custody in his car, shot him. In the struggle, Ferrall also shot one of the youths, William Stigerson, 25, who later died from the wounds in the Good Samaritan hospital here.

Ferrall was disabled 12 days from the gun shot wound and was also treated at the hospital.

Ferrall has lived in Galion for 42 years. He was born in Bluffton, April 26, 1870, and spent his boyhood days on a farm near Seccanum park, west of Galion. He was

KNOW YOUR STONES!

DIAMOND
(Birthstone for April)

The diamond—the most valued of stones—was even recognized by the ancients for its extreme hardness as well as for its superior refractive and dispersive power. Appropriately, the name was taken from the Greek word "Adamas" meaning "the invincible."

Technically, it is pure native carbon crystallized in the isometric system and is usually found in imperfect octahedral shape. The range of color of the diamond is extensive, but hues of light yellow, straw-color and brown are of most common occurrence. Diamonds of a decided color such as green, blue or even red are found but they are extremely rare. Only one deep red diamond is known to have been found. The black or carbonado variety is also very rare.

A diamond is said to be of the first water when colorless and limpid as water and of the second or third as the transparency decreases.

When the rough or natural stone is cut into forms with many reflecting faces or facets, it shows a remarkable brilliance and play of prismatic colors. The most desirable form is the "brilliant" cut—with 58 facets—figured mathematically to bring out the maximum of its extreme brilliance and rare "fire."

Among the world's most famous diamonds are: the Great Mogul, the Koh-i-noor, the Orloff, and the Sancy, famous as being held by a succession of distinguished owners including Queen Elizabeth, Cardinal Mazarin and Louis XIV.

The largest diamond ever found was the Cullinan discovered in the Premier mine in the Transvaal in 1905. It weighed 3,025 carats, or one and one-third pounds, and measured 4x2 1/2x2 inches. The Cullinan was presented to King Edward VII and subsequently cut into nine stones.

Diamonds formerly came chiefly from India and later from Brazil; the present principal source is South Africa, where they are found associated with a peculiar rock of volcanic origin.

Diamonds have been produced artificially but only in minute crystals—the process requiring intense heat and enormous pressure.

Banquet Program Highlight of Tenth Annual Federation Fine Arts Festival

By EDNA S. DUTTON

AFTERNOON and evening programs, a banquet at 6 o'clock and displays of paintings, creative art, handicraft and amusements featured the tenth annual Community Fine Arts Festival of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs yesterday at the Masonic temple.

In addition to rounding out a decade of sponsoring a community fine arts day, there were many things about the occasion to make it an outstanding one in the history of the federation. It marked the first appearance of the Marion County Federation Chorus, introducing two new exhibits, table settings and story gardens and club scrap books, brought Miss Emma Gamboa, Pan American Fellowship student as a guest on the program, and Mrs. R. E. Mendon, of Westerville, president of Central district, as an honor guest.

Covers Placed for 278

Covers were placed for more than 270 club women and guests at the banquet, for which John L. Grierson of Columbus was the guest speaker, and Howard Jarratt of Delaware was the guest singer. The federation chorus sang on the evening program and at this time also the winners of the various exhibits and the short story and poetry contest were announced. Guests on the afternoon program were Mrs. Paul Alexander of the state federation, Miss Gamboa, Mrs. Marianne Bower and Mrs. Jose Palomo of Columbus.

Mrs. J. A. Lott, president of the federation, and Mrs. W. N. Harder, chairman of the Margaret Harter Pan American Fellowship fund, presented the program in the afternoon and presiding in the evening were Mrs. Grover C. Snyder, chairman of fine arts and general chairman for the Fine Arts day, and Miss Audrey Bolander, federation program chairman.

The afternoon program opened with the invocation spoken by Mrs. Carl V. Ropp, Miss Virginia Young, accompanied at the piano by Miss Roseline Manzo, sang two numbers, and Morris Kline played a piano number, "Impromptu in A Flat Major," Schubert. Mrs. C. D. Pilkington of LaRue contributed two readings.

Outlines Reading

Mrs. Alexander prefaced her review of "The Goodly Fellowship," by Mary Ellen Chase with brief sketches of current fiction and non-fiction which she regards as worthwhile reading. She catalogued the spring publications as better than those of last winter, and praised the work of authors who are choosing America for their historical and biographical novels. "In 50 or 100 years students of history will be very much interested in the novels being written about America today," she predicted. She brought out some of the humor in the Chase novel which is a story of the author's experiences as a teacher in the country school to her work at Smith college where she is a professor in English.

Among the books Mrs. Alexander mentioned were "Live for Tomorrow," "Swift Flows the River," "How Green Is My Valley," "Oke and His World," the river books which deal with the Hudson, Mississippi, Powder River, Sacramento, James and Swane.

Mrs. Bower, Mrs. Palomo and Miss Gamboa presented their part of the program in colorful native costumes. Accompanied by Mrs. Plomo at the piano Mrs. Bower sang "Patio Patio," "Lar Cuatro Milpas," and "La Paloma Blanca," for her first group and "El Cefiro," and "Por Ti Aprendi a Querer," for her second. She also joined Miss Gamboa in singing a Costa Rican song, "Pasion." Miss Gamboa entertained with a Costa Rican dance, "El Pulpito." Miss Gamboa, who has been a student at Ohio State university for the last three years will return to Costa Rica in June.

Mrs. Paul Knauss spoke the in-first group, "Ungeud," Schubert, "Apris un Revet," Faure, and "E Lucevan le Stelle," Puccini, and for his second group "Silent Night," Rasmannhoff, "Clorinda," Morgan, "Sweet Chatter that Led My Steps Abroad," Head, and "Susan Is Her Name O," Sanderson. For an encore he sang "Lord's Prayer," Mr. Jarratt is in the music department at Ohio Wesleyan university.

There is beauty to be found in a cool, a garden, worm, and corn smut. Mr. Grierson told his audience, and he finds beautiful pictures in furrowed fields and the building of houses. Speaking on the subject "The Supreme Art," he classified it as the gathering of all art and weaving it into good, happy living. Designating the world as a great mirror, he said, "Beauty, he continued, exists everywhere, and the greatest art is to take all arts and be able to know and appreciate them."

Life Is Short

"Life is awfully short and I haven't time for anything but the best; so many people are filling their lives with trash when all around are priceless things to enjoy and appreciate," he said. It isn't necessary to be a great artist to enjoy pictures, music and literature, art is for you, take it and use it.

Mr. Grierson is associated with the extension service at Ohio State university.

Tapers in pastel shades lighted the tables and potted plants and spring flowers provided colorful decorations. At the speaker's table there were favors of miniature vases filled with spring flowers. The various exhibits provided entertainment between the afternoon and evening programs. There was a wide variety of displays and all were interesting. Among them were paintings, quilts, rugs, lace table cloths, bedspreads, needlepoint, cut work, wood carvings, drawn work, hand painted articles, buttonery, puppets, and crafts from the schools and Girl Scout troops.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, April 4

A fairly lively day is indicated by the lunar transits. It may be a day in which matters may run in routine grooves, with trivialities and petty oppositions upsetting the equilibrium or straining the happy course of events. These may be perplexing and promote the danger of a small loss, financially or in the matter of prestige or standing.

Those whose birthday it is may have a rather routine sort of year, with little transpiring out of customary grooves. While there may be trifling pretensions, conflict or petty loss, financially or in friendship or social standing, it is not a time of portentious events. A child born on this day may have a rather easy-going nature, with not too exciting ambitions, and should have a fairly uneventful career.

DOG RAIDS MILK

By International News Service
BOSTON — Circumstantial evidence recently convicted Frisco, a better dog, as the raider on the neighborhood cream and milk deliveries and at the same time exterminated the suspected "cats and skunks." An ingenious gun trap set by a neighbor on his back porch, to protect his morning cream from night raiders, went off one night. Police followed a trail of blood and located Frisco, his left leg badly torn by buckshot. The dog will recover from his wounds.

April 7 Eclipse Will Show Moon In a Ring of Fire

150-Mile Belt To Witness

Spectacle; Shadow To Hit A. U. S.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK — A partial eclipse of the sun will sweep from the west across the entire United States Sunday, April 7. For nearly all the country, it will be a partial eclipse, and for a 150-mile-wide strip from Del Rio, Texas, to Jacksonville, Fla., the spectacle will be a rare annular or ring eclipse.

In the area of the annular eclipse, there will seem to be a narrow ring of fire around the moon. This will be a thin rim of the sun, visible there because the moon will not be so far from the earth as it will be completely hidden on the west.

The Negative Shadow
The moon will blot out 81 per cent of the sun's diameter, which means it will cover 12 to 14 per cent of the sun's area. The shadow that passes over the earth will be real enough, but won't actually be the black cone of shadow. East of the moon, the sun will be the light - glass extension of that black cone, known to astronomers as the negative shadow.

Under the ring-shaped central path the sun will give about twice the light of the full moon.

Map shows path of annular eclipse across southern United States and the amounts of partial eclipse observable in other sections. When, in local time, show when the eclipse reaches its maximum at various cities; percentages indicate how much of the sun's diameter will be hidden.

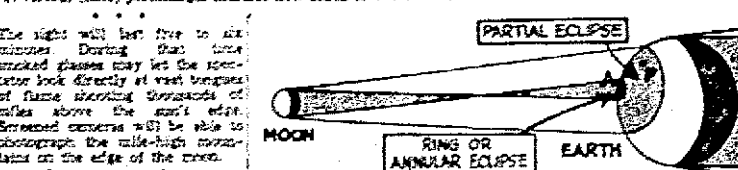

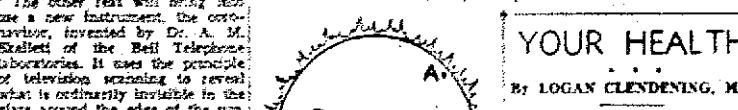

Diagram shows difference between an ordinary and an annular eclipse. In ordinary eclipse, points within the dark cone of the moon's shadow would be totally eclipsed. In annular eclipse, points such as A, in the moon's shadow, can see points A and B on the sun's rim, but cannot see the central area of the sun, as at C. When they see it is a ring, or annulus, of light. Other points, such as P, miss the ring because they can see A and C on sun, while B is obscured. So, at P, eclipse is a partial.

Two Scientific Tests
Two great astronomical tests will be undertaken in Texas. One, in the Corpus Mountains, 50 miles north of Alpine, Tex., will be to measure the strength of the infrared rays of the sun's edge. This strength is still unknown. Their measurement may some day be useful in long-range weather forecasting.

The other test will bring into use a new instrument, the coronagraph, invented by Dr. A. M. Skiffert of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. It uses the principle of television scanning to reveal what is ordinarily invisible to the eye around the edge of the sun. The instrument will show the sun's corona, which will not be visible to the eye or to cameras. The scanner converts the light around the sun's edge into electricity and, oddly, makes two kinds of current, direct and alternating.

1,000 Miles an Hour
The alternating light comes from the invisible corona, a pear-shaped structure of streams like a million-mile wide roller around the sun. The coronagraph converts the alternating current back into light, and thereby has an image of the corona. This will be the instrument's first use in an eclipse. Observations will be made at the McDonald Observatory, Mt. Locke, Tex., a few miles north of the ring path.

The eclipse will come from the west, striking the Pacific coast.

Shortly before noon, and traveling 1,000 miles an hour, will end on the Atlantic coast a little before 5 p. m. standard time.

There's one more point about this eclipse—it will start the day before it finishes. That's because the shadow will first strike the globe a little west of the International Date-line, in the Pacific where it will be April 3. When the shadow crosses that line, it will be April 5.

ADJUSTMENT OF CROP LOSSES COMING SOON

Payments To Be Made Under Federal Insurance Plan.

Adjustment of losses of winter wheat crops in the country which are insured under the federal crop insurance program will get under way soon, C. P. Harper, chairman of the National county AAA committee, announced today.

Farmers whose insured crops have been either totally or partially damaged may apply for compensation at the county committee's office on East Church street and an inspection of the crop will be made, Mr. Harper said.

If inspection shows the crop is a total or "substantially total" loss, the farmer may immediately file a claim for indemnity and obtain permission to put the insured acreage to other use. If the crop is only partially damaged, but damaged so severely that it would be useless to keep the acreage in wheat, the loss will be approved and the potential production of the damaged crop taken into consideration in computing the payment, Mr. Harper explained. When losses are less severe, final adjustment will be made at the time the crop is threshed and the actual yield is determined.

Mr. Harper announced that whenever possible payments will be made in either wheat or cash as the farmer prefers. However, AAA officials reserve the right to make the payment in either form when it is not feasible to comply with the grower's request.

An innovation in the method of making payments this year is a provision for deferred settlement, Mr. Harper explained. Unto Europe, a trip which included 10 days of continuous flying at an altitude of from 8,000 to 10,000 feet.

I certainly don't wish to be understood as advocating such a regimen for anybody, but there are some lessons to be learned. One is that the heart has great powers of recuperation and great reserve power. The other is that the great remedy for the heart is rest. Even with such serious damage as comes from a coronary occlusion, the patient, by giving the heart several months of complete rest, gave the soft spot an opportunity to heal and this patient appears to have as good a heart as anybody as a consequence.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. W.: I have heard that going bareheaded in chilly weather causes sinus trouble. Is there any truth in this?

Answer: You are just as likely to hear that going bareheaded causes sinus trouble. Cold may be a factor in sinus trouble, but a remote one.

RESIGNS POST
AT MARYSVILLE

School Supt. Bittkofer Quits
After Service of 16 Years.

Special to The Star
MARYSVILLE, April 2.—Supt. Bittkofer, head of the Marysville schools, announced his resignation yesterday afternoon after 16 years of service. The board of education at Marysville indicated plans to offer Bittkofer a new contract. Superintendent Bittkofer, 52, was set Aug. 1 to retire. His resignation was announced at a meeting Monday afternoon. Bittkofer told the board he wished to know if he would be offered a new contract, since it was customary to give persons engaged in school work some notice as to whether they were to be reemployed. He also gave a review of his work as superintendent and stated he would like to head the schools for two more years and then retire from the teaching profession.

Following his talk, the board members gave no indication whether he would be offered a new contract and the lack of comment was construed as confirmation of previous reports that Mr. Bittkofer would not be rehired.

In the review of his work, Mr. Bittkofer said he felt he had done much toward raising the Marysville school system to its present high standard and that his 16-year record justified a two-year contract so he could finish his educational career in the city. He pointed out that he would be eligible for retirement on full pension in two years.

One of the achievements to which he referred in his statement was acceptance of the Marysville High School into membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in 1934.

In announcing his resignation, Mr. Bittkofer said he has been offered posts in several other school systems but that he probably will make no decision for at least a month.

Before being elected to the superintendency here in 1924, Mr. Bittkofer served as superintendent of the New Washington schools in Crawford county for six years and as superintendent of the Crawford county school system for 10 years.

HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS
LAID TO BUILDERS

Seminar Speaker Places Responsibility on Engineers.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., April 2.—Highway engineers have three-fourths of the responsibility for eliminating automobile transportation hazards, in the opinion of Maxwell Halsey, Yale university traffic research expert.

"Accidents are not the real problem, but merely an index of inefficiency," Halsey told 50 newsmen attending a seminar of safety yesterday.

Halsey declared it was up to the traffic engineers to eliminate highway congestion by the "re-orientation of all future construction in terms of the functional elements which control the roadway."

Termining the intersection "the bottleneck of traffic inefficiencies," Halsey commented.

"The form of the intersection must be radically changed if improvements are to be made."

Burton W. Marsh, director of the American Automobile association's safety and traffic engineering department, advocated greater protection for pedestrians.

"Intensified city and state programs of pedestrian protection during the next three years will be the means of saving 6,600 lives," Marsh said.

The Commercial Investment Trust Safety Foundation awarded cash prizes, totaling $3,000, to newspapermen promoting the cause of traffic safety in the United States last year.

First prize winners were: John A. Crawford, Cleveland Plain Dealer, $500, reporting: H. A. Van Dusen, Gary, (Ind.) Post Tribune, $500, editorial: Jerry Costello, Albany (N. Y.) Knickerbocker News, $500, cartoon.

The three-day seminar closes today.

Joseph Koren of the Canton Repository was awarded honorable mention and a $25 prize in the reportorial division of the safety competition.

SEA SCOUTS PLAN FOR ANNUAL SPRING DINNER

The annual spring dinner meeting on May 7 was discussed at a meeting of the committee of Sea Scout Ship "Paul Siple" last night at Epworth Methodist church. Harold Power, chairman of the ship committee, is in charge of arranging for an instructive and entertaining program which will include presentation of the ship's charter. The dinner preceding the program is being arranged under the supervision of A. J. Louden, alder, chief steward of the ship committee, assisted by Morris Kline, vice chairman of the committee. Invitations will be issued to parents and others to attend.

Lester Watts, skipper of the ship, told of activities of the Sea Scouts in the last month and discussed tentative plans for the summer months. He reported enrolling of new recruits progressing satisfactorily.

Originally intended as advance work for Boy Scouts, the troop is now open to all boys interested who are able to pass the required examination, the committee announced. Boys interested may talk with Mr. Watts any Tuesday night at the church.

Official Report on Fire
Situation Here Received

Mayor Plans Conference with Community Leaders To Map Program of Action.

Mayor Snare announced today he has received the official recommendations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for improvement of Marion's fire protection facilities and will seek to arrange a conference with various community leaders to decide what is to be done about them.

The conference, if one can be arranged, probably will be held this week so that city council can take action on the recommendations at its meeting Monday night.

A tax levy, probably of one mill for two years, has been suggested as means of financing the improvements. Estimates of the cost have ranged from $50,000 to $70,000.

The official list of recommendations is virtually the same as that announced informally by the mayor recently.

Time Allowance Probable

The recommendations are based on a preliminary checkup of Marion's facilities, made not long ago. Mayor Snare understands the national board will give the city a reasonable length of time to provide for making the improvements before further action is taken toward boosting the city's insurance rate class. The city is now in class 4 but may be boosted to 3 or 2, meaning a rate increase for certain types of property, officials said.

The national board's recommendations are:

1. Eight new firemen; six to compensate for days-off granted under the new 72-hour week law.
2. Buy 750-gallon pumper and junk the present 750-gallon unit.
3. Buy pumper-ladder truck equipped with a 750-gallon pump and other devices, including hose. Use for residential service and keep present aerial ladder truck for commercial, manufacturing and other districts.

(Alternate for No. 3—Purchase a service ladder truck with an aerial ladder and 750-gallon pumper. This unit would be kept at headquarters but eventually would be set up as a separate company in a new station.)

COUNCIL AT BUCYRUS
ACTS ON POOL PLAN

Passes Ordinance for $25,000 Bond Issue.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 3 — Reports were received and several items of legislation passed by city council Tuesday.

Preliminary legislation toward securing a municipal swimming pool was adopted when council approved an ordinance declaring it necessary to issue $25,000 in bonds. Council also took steps toward securing a bridge across Sandusky river to Aumiller park where the pool will be located, when they voted to accept a bridge now located north of Bucyrus at Brinkenswood creek, from the state highway department, which is replacing the bridge with a larger structure.

Council authorized Safety Director Carl Jacobs to repair the tower at the fire department building and place it in condition to receive the carillon bells which were given to the city several months ago by John Q. Shunk, Bucyrus manufacturer. The bells are to be installed by Mr. Shunk and to be kept in good condition by the city.

Water Works Superintendent Jay Keplinger reported collections of $1,679 in delinquent water accounts in March for the period from January 8 to March 31. Accounts for the quarter showed only $130 uncollected which is the best collection on record in the water office since 1924, Keplinger reported.

Service Director Fred Judd reported $800 in delinquent sewage service charge since the completion of the sewage plant one year ago. The delinquent account will be certified to the county auditor to be placed on the tax duplicate.

Twenty-Five Marion Bowlers To Leave Tomorrow for ABC Tournament

Three Teams To Make Detroit Trip by Train, Two by Auto Caravan.

By CHARLES HOSKOTTER
Marion Star Sports Editor

MARION bowlers will embark during the wee hours of tomorrow morning on a pilgrimage to the American Bowling Congress world's championship tournament at Detroit, Mich.

By special train and automobile they will make the trip, many of them accompanied by their wives. The Marion party will include 25 pin artists who will compete in the ABC and nearly again as many guests, who will be going along for the outing.

Three of the five Marion squads have elected to go by train. Members of the remaining two will form an auto caravan to the motor city. A special coach has been added to The Sportsman, a Chesapeake & Ohio train, to handle the party. It will leave from Union station at 4:20 tomorrow morning.

List of Teams

Squads will roll under the banners of Dugan Clothes, Marion Builders' Supply, Parish Daly, Buettlin Sales and City Ice & Fuel. The first three mentioned com-

DETROIT, April 3—A bump against his foot robbed Charles McAnespie of Lancaster, O., of a perfect game in the American Bowling Congress singles. He rolled eight strikes, glanced into the gutter, hit 10 for a spare and three more strikes for 270. His other scores were 214 and 207.

prize the party which will go by train. They will compete in team events at 8:30 p. m., Thursday, remaining in Detroit overnight to shoot doubles and singles, Friday at 10 a. m.

This year's event, the fortieth annual renewal of the world's largest sports program, opened March 7 and continues through May 7. It is being staged on specially constructed alleys in the Michigan state fairgrounds coliseum. Some 30,000 men will have vied for the glory and cash awards that go to the prize winners before the curtain falls a month hence.

Rosters of the local squads making up the rail party are: Dugan Clothes—Emerson Schoenlaub, captain; L. E. Cookston, Don Greenland, Gene Gunder and Floyd Messmore; Marion Builders' Supply—Lee Schuler, captain; Robert Shoemaker, Carl Brickley, M. D. Metz and Arthur Wintersteiler; Parish Daly—B. H. Buettlin, captain; John Javay, Robert Haas, Gale Greenland and Robert Disbennett.

Those going by auto are: Buettlin Sales—A. J. Firestone, captain; Jack Ward, Maynard Snyder, Frank Bryant and Marion Hinklin; City Ice & Fuel—Arthur Cheney, captain; John Lockstead, George Alber, Dolph Wolbert and Rex Miller.

Wives Attending

Among the wives who will make the trip are: Mrs. Cookston, Mrs. Greenland, Mrs. Gunder, Mrs. Messmore, Mrs. Shoemaker, Mrs. Metz, Mrs. Wintersteiler, Mrs. Buettlin, Mrs. Firestone, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Lockstead, Mrs. Alber and Mrs. Wolbert.

John Hayden, who is not entered in the team event, will pair with Marion Hinklin for a shot at the prize money in the two-man competition. They recently paired to post 1,247 in the Inter-City tourney, which currently gives them possession of seventh place.

Pairings for the doubles are: Cookston-Schoenlaub, Schuler-Brickley, Wintersteiler-Metz, Messmore-Shoemaker, Haas-Javay, Buettlin-Gunder, C. Greenland-D. Greenland, Snyder-Firestone, Bryant-Wark, and Hayden-Hinklin.

ABC Team Title on Block Tonight

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, April 3—Another championship goes on the block tonight at the American Bowling Congress when the Detroit Goebel team attempts to defend its five-man title.

The state fair coliseum has been sold out for a week in anticipation of the Goebel five's appearance. The team rolled 3,151 last year at Cleveland under the colors of the Fife Electric Co., and is considered one of the strongest contenders in the present tourney.

Three weeks ago, in a successful defense of their Michigan match game title, the Goebels shot a phenomenal 3,339, one of the highest scores ever posted in recognized competition. The Schamberger five of Chicago is the present tournament leader with a 2,987 count.

The 1939 singles and doubles champions joined the ranks of ex-champions in yesterday's rolling, which failed to produce a change among the leaders. Jim Danck, Forest Park, Ill., who won with 750 at Cleveland, totaled only 407 on games of 182, 182 and 133 to finish far down the list.

Philip Iuss and Murray Fowler, Steubenville, O., defending doubles titlists, fared no better. They mustered only 1,134 compared with their 1,405 total last year. Fowler had 618, Iuss 576.

LOMBARDI DETERMINED

Dean To Try Out Arm

EL PASO, Tex.—That long-awaited event, the season's first test of Dizzy Dean's pitching arm, is slated for next Monday at Fort Smith, Ark., manager Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs has decided. In the meantime he assigned Claude Passeau to face Bill Dietrich today as the Cubs and White Sox met for the last time before they put on their pre-season series in Chicago.

Box Edge Reds

STATESVILLE, N. C.—The Boston Red Sox and Cincinnati Reds resumed their series here today with the American leaguers seeking their third straight victory. They'll have to do it without Dom DiMaggio, though, because he is being rested from a charley horse. The Reds also are having outfield trouble. Manager Bill McKechnie still experimenting with his apparently hopeless left field material.

Those Rowdy Tigers

LAKELAND, Fla.—The Detroit Tigers, who broke camp today and headed for Gadsden, Ala., to take on the Brooklyn Dodgers, may not be a better team this season but they'll be a noisier one. With Birdie Tebbetts behind the plate every day and Dick Bartell holding forth at shortstop they're about as rowdy a crew as the staid American league has to show.

Indians Just Kids

WAYCROSS, Ga.—Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians boasts that his team will start one of the youngest infelds in the majors this year. Shortstop Lou Roudreau is 22, second baseman Ray Mack and third sacker Ken Keltner are both 23 while Hal Trosky at first is all of 27.

Yanks Display Style

OKLAHOMA CITY—The New York Yankees are showing the minor league towns why they are the world champions. They made three fielding lapses against Dallas yesterday and came back with three double plays. In addition Charley Keller hit a homer with one on and Allyn Donald combined with Spud Chandler for five-hit shutout hurling.

INDIANAPOLIS AUTO RACE WORKOUTS ON

Practice for Classic Starts Earliest in Years.

By The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS, April 3—Practice for the annual 500-mile automobile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway is off to its earliest start since post-war days.

Russell Snowberger of Detroit drove his four-cylinder front-drive car 100 miles around the 2½-mile brick and asphalt track yesterday, doing the lap at 115 miles an hour.

T. E. (Pop) Myers, vice president and general manager of the Speedway Corp., said it was the earliest practice spin in 20 years. But he predicted warm weather would bring out more drivers soon.

Snowberger, who hit an estimated 132 miles an hour on the straightaways, forecast "speed to burn" for the twenty-eighth running of the yearly motor classic next Memorial day.

Willie Hoppe Comes Back

One-Time "Boy Wonder," Billiards Wizard Clinches 3-Cushion Crown at 52.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, April 3—The "Boy Wonder" of billiards 34 years ago is no longer a boy but he's still a wonder.
Willie Hoppe, now 52 years old and gray-haired, clinched the world's three cushion title last night, defeating defending champion Welker Cochran, 50 to 43 in 46 innings, for his 16th consecutive victory in the current tournament without a defeat.

The tournament has four more games to play but none of the other 10 players in the field, including five former title holders, has a chance to catch him.
"I'm playing the best game of my life," Hoppe said after winning the title. "I never before in the shots as well or was as confident of attempting difficult shots as I am at present."

And that's saying a good deal. Hoppe won his first world's title at the age of 19 when he was known as the "Boy Wonder" of the game. Since then he has won all the billiard titles at least once and many of them several times. But last night's triumph was his first three cushion title gained in tournament play. He last held the three cushion title when he defeated Cochran, the incumbent, in a challenge match.

Jake Schaefer of Cleveland, current king of the ballkicks, is Hoppe's closest competitor in the present tournament, but he has lost five games. Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., occupies third place and Cochran fourth.

Greg Rice, former Notre Dame star, hit the tape alone to break the world's record for the three mile run in defeating Don Lash and Taliso Maki in the Finnish Relief Fund track meet at New York. Rice's time was 13 minutes 52.3 seconds.

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 3—Wyandot county rural schools will hold their annual high school track and field meet at Lewis park, Harpersburg, Friday, May 10, with two preliminaries in the 100 and 200-yard dashes to be run off May 8 to narrow the field. Alterations and improvements have been made in the Harpersburg track and park grounds. Nine schools will participate in the meet.

SPECIAL TRAINING
Ray Reese, Alabama end, climbed in an unusual way. He climbed the steps of the stadium with a 40-pound weight on his shoulder. The exercise was to strengthen a knee from which cartilage was removed.

PHOENIX, April 3.—Whipcrack! Frankie Frisch, new boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was sitting around swapping baseball stories and keeping an idle eye on the clock to see that the pitcher's hour was observed by his erstwhile bad boy.

The thing led to another and another. Frisch was talking about playing camps, the conditioning of ball players and ball players' ailments.

"Now the other day," Frisch said, "I looked in our dressing room. I got enough stuff to make a hospital. Cotton, bandages, ovens, heaters, crutches, splints, knives, everything they got everything."

"Why I remember when all we had in a locker room was a bottle of rubbing alcohol, and they'd rub that because somebody was likely to drink it."

Prima Donna Now

"Now days," he went on, "if a ball player gets a belly ache, he means around like he's gonna die. If he twists a muscle in his little finger, he's got to see a specialist and go on crutches for a week."

"I remember one time I got a spike in my hand. Cut clear down to the bone. Put my hand up to my suit and it got covered with blood. Came in to the dugout and the Old Man, that was John McGraw, looked at it and said, 'Told me to have the trainer to pour a little alcohol in it and go on back.'"

"Hughie Jennings leans over and says, 'Why say, man, that ain't nothing. I remember the time I broke my leg going to first base. The bone was sticking out at the ankle and I didn't know nothing was wrong until I pulled up at second.'"

Frankie paused a moment, probably going back over the years when he was the great "Fordham Flash" and the infield star for the Giants.

No Nursing for Pirates

Or maybe he was thinking of the years he presided as ringmaster for the celebrated crackpot team of the present era, the Gas House Gang at St. Louis. Whatever it was, he resumed:

"Another time I got spiked in my toe. Inch deep. The trainer threw a lot of iodine down it. I swung and hit him and ran out to the field. Lucky no one was in the park."

"The next day the old Man says, 'Wrap it up, cut a piece out of your shoes, and get out there.' I told him I couldn't, but sure enough, in the ninth, I'm run in to pinch hit. Nearly killed me. And I was out of the lineup for three weeks."

"Hope you didn't get nursed around in those days."

It sounded very much like a hint that the pampered Pirates won't get much nursing from their new skipper, either.

FAMED TRACK COACH AT NOTRE DAME IS DEAD

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 3.—Track Coach John P. Nicholson of the University of Notre Dame, who lived to see one of his pupils called the greatest distance runner of all time, is dead at 50.

The veteran coach, at Notre Dame 12 years, died of heart trouble last night. Only two nights before in New York's Madison Square Garden he had heard Paavo Nurmi of Finland, noted one-time distance star, term Gregory Rice, whom Nicholson trained, "the greatest distance runner the world has ever seen."

Steel Production in South Showing Change in Trend

By The Associated Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 30.—Steel production in this southern industrial center, which acted as a weather vane for most recent spurts in the nation's huge iron and steel industry, has reversed its recent downward tendency as new orders outstripped shipments.

This fact led to forecasts in industrial circles here that steel output will regain some of the ground lost since Jan. 1 before the end of the current quarter, June 30.

The national steel production average has dropped from the high point of 84.4 per cent of capacity, which followed the rush of orders after the outbreak of European hostilities, to 62.5 this week.

Steel production for this area will jump three points to 81 per cent of capacity next week, and pig-iron output is in line with the new tendency with a 5 point jump to 85 per cent of the theoretical maximum.

Orders since March 1, usually informed sources said, have exceeded shipments while mills operated at 78 per cent. Inquiries have indicated a further increase in business before the end of the second quarter.

Foreign business, these sources said, is playing only a minor role, but some tonnage is being booked for South American countries which formerly relied principally on Great Britain and Germany for steel requirements.

The new rate of 81 per cent for the Alabama district takes into account an increase in ingot capacity at Republic's Gadsden plant, which has added to open hearth furnace output in a remodeling program since Jan. 1.

Argentine Champ Rated High Among Entries for Masters

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 3.—Having had one 18-hole look and several talks with the man since he arrived here, we hereby are tabbing Martin Pose of the Argentine to give a good account of himself in the annual Masters invitation golf tournament which starts tomorrow.

Since we predicted that Ben Hogan would go ahead and win several first prizes after he copped the blue ribbon in the North-South championship, we also consider ourselves considerable of a "tabber." But there is more to it than that.

There is, more importantly, Martin Pose himself—a cool, self-possessed customer, 29 years old, about 145 pounds, dark-haired, compactly built, and a hater long and straight enough to outdistance Byron Nelson consistently off the tees.

If it's not too much of a play on words, we'd say that Pose (you seem to pronounce it pee-zay) has pose. He was quite expressive in his enthusiasm for the six-under-par 66. Nelson shot in his company yesterday, but it was obvious that underneath he was devoting a good 98 and 44-100 per cent of his attention to studying a course he'd never seen before.

Marion Builders' Supply posted the heavy collective scores in Tuesday night's All Star league matches. The Builders' pin barrage net them totals of 1,037 and 2,857. Art Yazel, lead-off man for Schaffner-Denzer, scattered the sticks for individual honor totals of 265 and 668.

Mortgage Loan Total Highest in County Since Week in 1937.

Thirty-three property transfers, nine less than the preceding seven-day period, were recorded in Marion city and county during the week ended Saturday, according to statistics in the office of County Recorder Paul H. Naher. In the same week last year there were 48 transfers, but 31 of them had resulted from a sale of forfeited lands.

There were 17 mortgage loans for $80,895 during the reported week. Although six less in number than the preceding week's 23, the amount of money involved was $14,484 more than the previous period's $46,206. The total for the reported week's loans was more than for any seven-day period since the week ending July 30, 1937 when 14 loans for $109,850 were listed. In the corresponding period a year ago there were 13 loans for $30,850.

Of the week's loans 13 for $49,500 were made by banks and building and loan companies, of which nine for $23,090 were on city property and four for $24,000 were on rural land. Insurance companies made two loans totaling $8,450, one on real estate in Marion for $4,500 and the other on property in the outlying section for $3,950. The Home Owners' Loan Corporation made one city loan for $2,475 and an individual made the remaining rural loan for $175.

KENTON HAS BAN ON FANCY BUGGY SPEEDING

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., April 3.—It is against the law for any person to drive a horse faster than six miles an hour in Kenton.

The law, one of a number of obsolete ones, was discovered as city council discussed a WPA project to recodify and index city ordinances and resolutions. Solons set aside $100 to complete the recodification. Council also gave a first reading to an ordinance authorizing purchase of a new car for the police department.

Announcement was made by City Auditor Ralph Yauger that the city's financial report, showing bonded debts of $180,220, including $81,700 to be paid from revenues of the municipal waterworks; total cash balances at start of the year 1940 of $39,336.82; receipts of $163,526; and expenditures of $146,366.46.
